*The Rescue of Bobbin 05 * Major Arnie Clark*

By Douglas De Vlaming

*(Reprinted with permission from The Daedalian Foundation, Randolph Air Force Base, Texas; Summer 2015 issue)
Colin A. "Arnie" Clark is a graduate of the BHS Class of 1954*

In October of 1972, the 354th TFW deployed with three squadrons of A-7D's to Korat RTAFB. I was a captain in the 356th TFS at the time and told my wife that I would be home at Christmas, as Henry Kissinger was in Paris saying that "peace was at hand." That did not happen.

The A-7D Corsair II was a variant of the Navy's A-7E and well suited to the fight in Southeast Asia. It was subsonic, but could carry four MK-84 2000 pound bombs from Korat to Hanoi, unrefueled and run in at 480 knots. The A-7D was tasked to fly deep interdiction to Hanoi (Linebacker II), Close Air Support & Interdiction in South Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia, and Search and Air Rescue in all theaters.

When the Wing first arrived at Korat a call for volunteers to fly the Search and Air Rescue mission went out. All pilots had previous combat tours but very few had experience flying the Search and Air Rescue mission. The first to volunteer was Major Arnie Clarke. Arnie was small in stature but a giant in all other aspects. He was a fighter pilot's fighter pilot. He was courageous, aggressive, tenacious and highly skilled at flying fighter aircraft. Arnie was born to lead men in combat. He was my flight commander and I wanted to be just like him.

On November 16, 1972, an F-105 Wild Weasel, call sign Bobbin 05, took off from Korat on a mission to escort B-52's on a night raid. During the mission, Bobbin 05 was downed by a surface- to- air missile, the crew ejecting and coming down 60 miles south of Hanoi, just southwest of Than Hoa (the second largest city in North Vietnam). The two-man crew hunkered down and waited for rescue on the 17th. It did not come until the 18th.

I flew on the 17th, and because I was not scheduled to fly on the 18th I went to Korat city to have dinner and unwind. When I returned to my hooch around 2200 the lights were out and my two roommates were in bed. As I entered the hooch, one of my roommates told me that the Wing was tasked to rescue the crew of Bobbin 05 the next day, which would be the A-7D's first mission in the Search and Air Rescue role. My roommate told me that I was on the schedule but had to tell the scheduler that I was a volunteer, as the mission was volunteers only. I knocked on the scheduler's hooch door and told him that I was volunteering. He told me that I was on the schedule and to be at Fort Apache, our intelligence center, at 0200. When I said, "0200!" He asked, "Do you want to go or not?" and I went to get a quick wink. We took off at 0400 with tankers filling the sky and red and green wing lights everywhere. The A-7D rescue force consisted of 8 smoke birds carrying four SUU-7's loaded with CBU-12 smoke grenades, 4 flak suppression birds with MK 82's and CBU 38, Arnie as Sandy lead with his wingman. I was one of the smoke birds.

When we got to the orbit point we could tell it was going to be a long day, as the weather was a low undercast that blanketed the whole of North Vietnam. The rescue helicopters could not get below the undercast. They attempted by lowering their penetrators and descending into the clouds only to have the penetrator drag on the jungle canopy before they broke out below the clouds. Arnie ruled out having the helicopters fly across North Vietnam and descending over the Gulf of Tonkin as the threat level was too high. We waited as two helicopters ran low on fuel and had to withdraw. Arnie ordered everyone back to the tankers as fuel was getting low for the entire A-7D rescue force. The tankers had to move north into Laos and without their efforts the mission would have failed. Sitting on the tanker's wing, waiting my turn to refuel over Laos with the Fuel Low Light staring me in the face, was just the start of what would turn out to be a very, very long day.

Arnie would not give up. He had been shot down twice before, both times flying the F-100, and he knew what it was like being on the ground, in enemy territory, waiting for rescue. Arnie decided to trust in the avionic systems incorporated in the A-7D. The A-7D had a forward looking radar, radar altimeter, heads up and a projected map displays. Using all of these systems Arnie found a valley and descended into it. He broke out into the clear, finding enough room underneath to maneuver. Arnie popped up and led the third helicopter down. The smoke birds let down over the Gulf of Tonkin and joined up with the helicopter laying a smoke corridor to the Bobbin crew.

With the Bobbin crew safely on board the helicopter, Arnie limped into Da Nang with heavy battle damage. His aircraft could not be repaired in theater and had to be flown back to the United States with the landing gear down. The aircraft, A-7D tail number 970, is now displayed in the National Museum of the United States Air Force in Dayton, Ohio. For his efforts that day, Arnie was awarded the Air Force Cross. As for me, I flew back to Korat after 8.7 long hours in the air. After landing, most of the rescue force went to the Officer's Club bar to celebrate...but not me. I went to bed.

Postscript: In 2006, I went to Vietnam with a Vietnamese friend and visited the location of the Bobbin 05 rescue. It was late in the day and we got as close to the horseshoe shaped ridge that the Bobbin crew landed on as we could. As we stood on a narrow bike path an older Vietnamese man on a bicycle came riding by. My friend stopped him and spoke to him in Vietnamese. During the conversation the man became angry and stomped his foot which prompted my friend to laugh. After the conversation ended I asked my friend why the man became angry. He told me he asked the man if any bombs had fallen in the area during the war. The man's response was, "No, but two flyers had parachuted into the ridge, "pointing to where the Bobbin crew was rescued. He said that, "...he and other villagers went looking for the flyers on the ridge," and that is when he stomped his foot and said, " but a helicopter came and took them away."

The Association thanks John C. Price and Merrilee Kipfer, both Class of 1954, for their suggestion to reprint this article. Arnie Clark, 1954, is now deceased. He was added to the Wall of Honor in 2011.

The Bothell High School girls basketball team won the KingCo League championship and placed fifth at the 4A state tournament. Taya Corosdale, a 6-foot-2 junior wing-guard, was named to The Seattle Times Star Times (all-area) team and was KingCo MVP. She averaged 18.5 points, 11.3 rebounds, 2.7 blocks, 2.3 steals, and 2 assists according to The Times. She has multiple college scholarship offers.

Young Bothell Quarterback to UW

Jacob Sirmon, who was the starting quarterback last fall as a sophomore for Bothell, has accepted a football scholarship to the University of Washington. He will enroll at the UW in 2018 after he earns his high-school diploma. Sirmon's father, David, is a UW business professor and his uncle, Peter, is a former UW linebackers coach who played linebacker for the Tennessee Titans of the NFL after a college career at Oregon. Sirmon, who is 6 feet 4, 208 pounds, is considered one of the nation's top young quarterback prospects.

In other Bothell quarterback news, former Cougar Quarterback Ross Bowers (Class of 2015), completed his redshirt season at the University of California last fall and now has four years of eligibility ahead of him. .

A WORD FROM THE PREZ'

By Annette Ross Eaton
Class of 1956

I hope that you are enjoying the new Alumni Directory for 2015 which was delivered in November and December. Perhaps you are finding some lost classmates like I did. Unfortunately, I did find a few who have passed on.

As a Board we recently made certain that our policies including information protection, legal instruments, bank accounts, insurance, etc. are all in order. All of our federal and local rules are being followed and reports are being filed on a timely basis. We will soon finalize plans for our annual picnic in August and are looking forward to the largest attendance ever. Be sure to enter your classic vehicle in the car show.

The Scholarship Foundation of Northshore (new name) manages our funds and yearly scholarship. I want to thank B-Z Davis for the years she chaired our BHSAA Scholarship Committee through the process of selecting our recipients, as she passes the chairmanship on to Karen Craig McDonald, class of 1974. We look forward to working with Karen. Next year, we hope to add our first vocational scholarship. B-Z will be the new Program Coordinator for the Scholarship Foundation of Northshore and we wish her well in the future. Many thanks to Mr. John Hughes, Executive Director of the foundation.

Our membership secretary, Bev Schmer, mailed a notice to all inactive members offering a "special price" to renew and mailed to 4000, targeting reunion years. Please take advantage of this half-price offer before it expires at the August picnic. Your dues keep our organization active to help alumni and sponsor our scholarships. Thanks to those who have renewed their membership.

The Wall of Honor induction ceremony is held each year in August. The ceremony recognizes outstanding individuals who have made positive contributions to our community and the world. Their names are shown at "Pop Keeney" Stadium on the "Wall." BHSAA contributes annually to this worthy organization. You may contribute by visiting www.NSD.org/wallofhonor.

On a final note, we are sorry to hear that Northshore Schools Superintendent, Mr. Larry Francois, will be leaving the district. He will be missed by everyone and we wish him well in the future. Please "discover" our website and I will see you at the picnic.

Regan Miedema has been selected as the 2016 recipient of the Bothell High School Alumni Association Scholarship. Regan has been an active Cougar; she serves as an officer in Junior States of America and FBLA. She has been student of the month and homecoming queen. She plays basketball, softball, and is also editor of the Catamount. Her true passion, however, lies in serving as a LINK leader, where she has the opportunity to assist incoming sophomores with acclimation to BHS. Regan strives to be a catalyst for positive change in every person she meets.

Regan plans to attend Montana State University where she will pursue a degree in nursing. Her father was diagnosed with cancer when she was twelve years old. She has vivid memories of the nurse who cared for her dad; and the care and comfort she provided a very scared young girl. She would like to be able to pay that forward and sees higher education not as an option, but a way to get to where she wants to be.

Our thanks to Regan for all she has contributed to making Bothell High a great educational institution.

Pawsitive Alliance's (PA) mission "is to help end the killing of adoptable dogs and cats in Washington by increasing adoptions, supporting spay and neuter programs, and improving pet retention."

According to their website; "5,730 pets have found homes through our Adoption Events since 2005!"

PA's "vision" is a happy and healthy home for every dog and cat in Washington state. They are a "volunteer-driven" organization, chiefly operating from home; they do not receive animals.

PA has three main programs: Adoption, Education, and Spay/ Neuter; to aid pets in need within the state of Washington.

Focus is emphasized on creating a positive experience for the families and their pets to bolster a lifetime relationship. They furnish help and support to first time adopters in multiple ways:

During a PA Adoption Event: There are volunteer "Dog Concierge's" to assist one or one's family to craft the ideal match.

A "New Puppy/New Dog Guide" which offers useful information is provided.

What if one's newly adopted animal family member has some issues with negative behavior? Follow up care from the volunteer Dog Concierge is free during the first three months after an adoption event at PA .

PA's website is always at hand if one needs further support.

There is an advisory board that supplies knowledge and support to advance the programs and goals: adoption, spay/neuter and education. The fields of animal safety and adoption, veterinary medicine, behavioral training, promotion, fundraising and development, telecommunications, and other germane disciplines are represented by the board.

WOODINVILLE

Is Woodinville known for its Wineries?

Yes, Woodinville is considered "Wine Country" because it is currently residence to more than 100 wineries and tasting rooms, five distilleries, eight breweries, and two cideries. For a comprehensive list see their website.

There is a syndicate of local wineries titled Woodinville Wine

Country which are “dedicated to enlightening the public about the premium wineries of Woodinville, Washington.” <http://woodinvillewinecountry.com/>.

According to the history of Chateau St. Michelle (CSM) (name change in 1976) it was originally established in 1954 as the American Wine Co., Washington’s first winery. CSM built a French-style manor/winery on 105 lush acres in Woodinville, Washington. Presently, the winery, which is now part of parent group Ste. Michelle Wine Estates, is the leading winemaker in Washington. They annually produce “more than 3 million cases covering eight distinctive varietals and are the world-leader in Riesling, producing more than nine different styles.”

One can take a tour, visit the tasting room, shop for wine, or plan to hold a special event (corporate, fundraising, wedding) at CSM as well as listen to an outdoor concert. 2016 is the 32nd year (May thru September) of live concerts. Enjoy fresh air, delectable wine, and perhaps a picnic dinner while listening to an outstanding vocal or band performance – what more can you ask for?

Bowers quarterbacked the Cougars to the 2014 state 4A championship. He performed one of the most memorable plays in state football history when he landed on his feet after a full flip over a defender to cap off a touchdown run in the title-game victory over Chiawana of Pasco. The play can be viewed on YouTube. Bowers’ mother, Joanne, is the University of Washington gymnastics coach.

Hekker All-Pro Again

Speaking of Bothell quarterbacks, Johnny Hekker, BHS class of 2008, was selected NFL all-pro first team punter by the Associated Press for the 2015 season and also picked for the Pro Bowl for a second time.

Hekker, who played quarterback and punted for the Cougars, punted in college for Oregon State.

In a December game last year against the Seahawks, Hekker’s St. Louis Rams were penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness because he shoved Seahawk Cliff Avril to the ground as they ran downfield. It was an unusual penalty for a punter. Hekker’s Rams are now the Los Angeles Rams.

Bothell Grad Wins NBA Slam-Dunk Again

Former Bothell basketball star Zach LaVine won the NBA Slam-Dunk contest for a second straight year. LaVine, who played one year at UCLA, was also MVP of an all-star weekend game that pitted young NBA talent against a team of foreign stars.

LaVine is a 2013 Bothell graduate and won state player-of-the-year honors that year. LaVine was selected by the Minnesota Timberwolves as the 13th pick in the 2014 draft. In January of this year, he scored 35 points against Oklahoma City, which used to be the Seattle Supersonics.

KingCo Has Changed

The KingCo Conference was formed in 1952 and most Bothell High School Alumni Association members are familiar with some, but not all, league members.

KingCo now has two divisions – a 4A division for the biggest schools (largest 17 percent of schools in the state in enrollment are 4A) and a 3A-2A division for smaller schools (the next 17 percent in size are 3A).

Current members of the 4A KingCo League are Bothell, Inglemoor, Woodinville, Eastlake (Sammamish Plateau school), Redmond, Newport, Mount Si, Issaquah and Skyline (Issaquah school on Sammamish Plateau).

Schools that many Bothell alums played against such as Lake Washington, Mercer Island and Bellevue are in the 3A-2A KingCo division now. Other schools in this division include Juanita, Interlake and Sammamish (both Bellevue schools) and Liberty (an Issaquah school that is 2A enrollment size).

From the fall of 1997 through the spring of 2014, Roosevelt, Garfield and at times Ballard and Franklin were KingCo 4A schools but they dropped in enrollment to 3A and returned to the Metro League.

HOGWASH

Steamboats carried both people and animals. Since pigs smelled so bad, they would be washed before being put on board. The mud and other filth that was washed off was considered useless "hog wash."

MEMBERSHIP

Current total membership is 375, which includes 219 active and 156 lifetime members.

Annual Association renewals are in August. Plan to renew & get your card at the BHS All-Alumni Picnic at Blyth Park on the third Sunday each August. After the picnic, we will mail reminders to all those that didn't renew at the picnic.

ATTENTION SNOWBIRDS AND TRAVELERS:

The Post Office charges for returned newsletters so snowbirds, travelers, and those who have moved are often a "cost" to the Association. The post office will not deliver bulk mail even if you have a hold or forwarding on your mail; it is returned to us with a fee. Many of our members are travelers and over the year, this can add up. If you will be temporarily away, please call or write to let us know when you will be gone. If you move, be sure to update us. Remember that we mail at the end of November and May. Call Bev at 425-488-8260 or e-mail bhsalumniassociation05@msn.com with information.

What's Happenin' at BHS?

By Katharine Denise Shogren Clark, Class of 1977

HIGH FIVE TO GIRLS BASKETBALL

Congratulations are in order as this BHS team scored fifth place in the Washington State 4A tournament on March 5, 2016 at the Tacoma Dome. According to the members, the team had close bonds of friendship on and off the basketball court. Plus magnificent teamwork was the superglue, advancing their offense.

The 2015-2016 season saw a record of 24 wins and three losses. Commented Bothell Cougars girl's basketball head coach Kent Schaefer, "I think fifth place is the best scored in the history of BHS girls basketball. I'm rather proud of that!"

THREADS & TREADS

This is the name of Northshore's no cost wardrobe store, located in Bothell at Canyon Park Junior High School. All Northshore School District families looking for free clothing assistance can shop here once a month for three ensembles; no referral required.

At Threads & Treads, one can find quality donated clothing for school-age youth, teens, young adults, and parents. Wardrobe pieces incorporate suitable apparel for the school day, special events, sportswear, shoes, and accessories.

Hours: open every Thursday from 4-6pm during the school year. For more information, please visit the NSD website or contact Eileen Jowell at ejowell@nsd.org or (425) 408-7648.

This is a great place to volunteer your time, or donate gently used/new clothes.

TEARS FOR TOLO

I remember way back during my time at BHS (1973 to 1977) dreaming of Christmas Tolo in December and the Sadie Hawkins Tolo in March. Oh how much time we spent planning for each dance with such excitement and fun!

My girlfriends and I would seriously confer on which boy to ask (if we were not "going steady"), what creative way to ask them, and the most important part of the equation – what to wear? Plus we possessed such pride and confidence in ourselves and the ability to pay for everything!

Well, imagine my surprise when I read about BHS ending this decades long tradition. Evidently this dance has gradually become extinct over the years due to a lack of attendance.

In September of 2015, given the democratic nature of BHS, a ballot was delivered to the student body to decide the fate of Tolo. Once the ballots were counted, a majority were not in favor of a Tolo at all.

In the past, girls would ask boys to Tolos and vice versa to homecoming and prom. That is now labeled as a binary concept which does not recognize the LGBT community. Plus, in today's culture and climate, boys no longer must initiate relationships.

So the 2016 Tolo was canceled on January 12, 2016 and will no longer be on the BHS dance schedule. This is a case where a previously accepted social function has outlived its relevance.

Greater Bothell Chamber of Commerce Student/Teacher Luncheon

BHSAA paid $100.00 to be the "Student of the Month Sponsor" for this event. It was held on Wednesday, November 4, 2015 at 11:30 am at The Rosewood Room at Country Village.

The luncheon, catered by Alexa's Café & Catering, was delicious. The Guest Speaker was Mr. Kieran Murray, an economic consultant, and his topic was "Go For Your Gold."

The Association was represented and attended by Kathy Greenwood (1966), Bev Schmer (1967), and Kate Clark (1977). Also seated at our table were Carmin Dalziel, Executive Director of the Northshore Schools Foundation; Northshore School District No. 417 Superintendent, Larry Francois; Bob Stewart, Principal of BHS; Pat McCue, BHS Automotive Technology teacher; and Caleb Netterfield, a BHS student.

Pat McCue introduced and spoke about his honored student, Caleb Netterfield, pictured below. Caleb was elected Region 5 National Vice President at the Skills USA National Leadership Conference in Louisville, KY on June 26th. He was a leader in the automotive program and served as a Skills USA Washington State Officer in 2014-15. Caleb is only the fifth representative from Washington State to be elected as a National Officer in the last 15 years! He will attend a tech school in Arizona.

BUYING THE FARM

This is synonymous with dying. During WW1 soldiers were given life insurance policies worth about the price of an average farm, so if you died, you "bought the farm" for your survivors.

How to Build a Free Website for Your Class Reunion

It takes a lot of effort to plan a high school reunion, and one of the most difficult tasks is keeping up with your classmates contact information. The free Class Creator website builder tool can help with that task, as well as with other planning and promotional activities. There are currently at least ten Bothell High School classes who are using the Class Creator tool to help with planning their reunion activities. So how do you get started?

Setting up your site: Go to the Class Creator website at <http://www.classcreator.com/>. Click on “Find School.” You can place your class under Bothell, Bothell High School, or Bothell Senior. Select Create a New Site Now. You will be prompted through set-up.

Design: There are 14 different design templates to choose from to create the look and feel of your website, or if you have Serif or Adobe Photoshop software, there are three advanced templates you can choose from. To get an idea of what a finished website looks like, open the Useful Links page on the Class of 1966’s website at www.bothellandinglemoorclassof1966.com/, and peruse the class websites listed under Bothell High Alumni Sites. You will find that the Professional #8 wave-design and the decade-themed designs are the most popular. Look at this before you begin your website design. Once you have selected a design template you want to use, you will be prompted to select your school colors, class year, and to upload a school photo.

Class List: After your basic design is set up, you can start to input your classmates. You can do this one by one, from the ‘Manage Classmates’ function, or you can upload a list. If you already have an excel spreadsheet list with classmate information, you can download an Excel CSV file from the website, and then copy and paste your excel information into the appropriate columns. Then upload to the website. After classmate’s names and information are uploaded, you can use the ‘Email the Class’ function to send email updates to those classmates who have provided their email address. Then classmates can “join” the website, and keep their own contact information up-to-date. Through word-of-mouth and diligent efforts on the part of your Search Committee, your list of “joined” classmates should steadily increase, although we recommend starting at least two years before your reunion.

There are many other functions that the website tool provides, such as Add Page, Gallery Creator, Survey Maker, Event Planner, and Donations Manager. The Event and Donations functions can be set up to collect money through Pay Pal, Credit Card, or by mail. In addition, once they have joined the site, classmates can send messages to one another, much like they do on Facebook. If you have questions about setting up a website for your reunion, please contact Kathy Greenwood at kath007g@yahoo.com or 425-293-1068.

SNOW BIRDS

A group of thirteen BHS alumni gathered at Rob and Sue Watson's in Yuma, Arizona on March 13, 2016 for lots of conversation, laughs, and plenty of good food. Besides Rob and Sue, those attending included Bob and Alice Corner, Ken Dahl, Dixie and Russ Girard, Vern and Audrey Struthers, John and Joann Keener, and Junior and Patsy Mattieligh.

The group had a small golf tournament and Vern Struthers took home the trophy.

Future plans to meet were not made, as the consensus was that they will cross that bridge down the road.

REUNION BLUES

Just got the alumni paper,
And saw some dreadful news.
We're having a reunion,
And now I've got the blues.

I had the perfect dress,
But now it doesn't fit.
It came with matching shoes,
That hurt my feet a bit.

I had the perfect marriage,
But nothing lasts of course.
Don't want my old friends to know,
That I'm getting a divorce.

Those feelings of inadequacy,
That plagued us in our teens;
Come crashing back in spades it seems,
And haunt our reunion dreams.

The friends we made when we were young,
Were filled with so much promise.
We shared our hopes and all our dreams,
And that's something we can cherish.

We've worked and strived our whole lives,
But now most of us are done.
So let's get together at our 50th,
And have some 'good ole' fun.

the school's "Spirit Committee" for a mascot and primary school color at their December 2015 board meeting. It's official-the school mascot will be the Jaguar and purple is their primary school color.

Once complete, the site will include three large buildings, sports fields, parking lots, and a boardwalk. Two of the structures are academic, housing faculty, offices, classrooms, meeting rooms, and a library. A third building will be for arts, music, two gyms, weight rooms, a theater, and an 800 person capacity cafeteria.

The school's principal is DR Eric McDowell and has been acting as Planning Principal since July 2015. He was previously principal for Odle Middle School in the Bellevue School District. McDowell has a BA in mathematics, Masters in education, and is completing a doctorate in Education from the University of Washington.

This new high school will meet the demands of the fast growing north end of Northshore School District and comes none too soon.

NORTH CREEK HIGH SCHOOL

By Carole Wikel Johnson
Class of 1967

Northshore School District's fourth high school is under construction on 66 acres off 35th Avenue S. E., just north and northwest of Fernwood Elementary in unincorporated Snohomish County. The new school will be called North Creek High School and is scheduled to open in the fall of 2017 with 1600 students.

The school board unanimously approved a recommendation from Reporters interviewing a 104-year-old woman: "And what do you think is the best thing about being 104?" the reporter asked. She replied, "No peer pressure."

OVER A BARREL

In the days before CPR, a drowning victim would be placed face down over a barrel and the barrel would be rolled back and forth in a effort to empty the lungs of water. It was rarely effective. If you are over a barrel, you are in deep trouble.
